DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2-8, 10-16, 26-32, 34-41, 43 and 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Carter, III (hereinafter Carter).

Carter teaches a method and system for pricing products in multi-level product and organizational groups. In particular, for each of the plurality of products there are adjustments to the basic price. For example, there are applicable state and local taxes, shipping charges and discounts (column 2; lines 1-5)

Cater further teaches, when a product is selected by the customer all product groups to which the product belongs and the associated pricing adjustments are identified. (column 3; lines 42-45). The price adjustments for a particular group (purchasing organization) are determined by retrieving the price adjustments for that product from a database table and applying them in sequence to arrive at a final price (column 3; lines 52-55 & column 3; lines 59-62).

Examiner notes that the groups relate to Applicant's calculation code and the price adjustments are the calculation rules. Specifically, each product has associated with it a group (or groups) (i.e. associating a calculation code with an item). In addition, each group

Art Unit: 3627

(calculation code) has associated with it a set of price adjustments (calculation rules) and these price adjustments (calculation rules) are used to produce an amount for a parameter (the amount of the actual adjustment).

Carter also teaches the invention overcoming the disadvantage of having to “hard-code” the “business logic” into the pricing system, therefore the invention provides for flexibility in formulating a desired pricing system while reducing the need to store, maintain and retrieve huge amounts of data (column 4; lines 1-11) (each operation maybe modified and the flow of execution remains the same).

Examiner notes that it is inherent to the system of Carter that the final price be output to a printer, a display device, a storage medium, a database or a connection device. One of these output means is necessarily present in the teachings of Cater in order to communicate the determined price to the customer.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed February 10, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant asserts that Carter fails to teach or suggest associating one or more calculation rules with an item through association with a calculation code. Examiner respectfully disagrees. As stated in the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) Cater teaches associating a price adjustment (calculation rule) associated with an item through association with a group (calculation code).

Art Unit: 3627

Examiner further asserts that the organizational hierarchy merely represents a plurality of calculation codes associated with an item.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
